

UNDER THE CAPITOL DOME

Odds and Ends of State Affairs by William J. Anderson

MADISON, Wis.—The state tax commission has made public the total for a state office can afford to pay assessment of all property in the state for his campaign later than February for the year 1921. The amount is $84,593,739.963, about twenty-four million dollars higher than the total of 1920. This in itself does not necessarily confirm the statement made in this correspondence last week that the tax levy of 1921, which will be collected early in 1922 will be higher than the levy of 1920. That statement is based upon other conditions. What the people of Wisconsin as well as those of all other states must recognize, and recognize themselves with is that if civilization is not to come to a standstill, or retrograde each year's cost of that civilization will exceed that of the preceding year. The problem of living is no longer the simple thing it was half a century ago, and it is growing more complex. The beauty of all this increasing cost, if there be any beauty in it, is that we are all responsible for it. We may as well acknowledge it. We may as well kick about the legislature, swear at the tax collector, but the legislature adds just the increase we insist upon and no more. We may become sarcastic over the expenditures of the highway commission, but none of us are willing to return to the conditions preceding scientific roadbuilding. The piece of concrete or substantial macadam which has taken the place of the suck hole which made our road too impassable for a portion of the year, we are not willing to give up and go back to the suck hole, and we won't pay for the better road which makes life better worth living.

The next state political campaign which in some quarters is already in progress is to be a campaign of oratory. In these days of doubt and unsatisfactory economic conditions no man can successfully run for office on either his form or his record. It will be better of course, if he have a good record, but what he must do is go out and meet the people and talk it over. He needn't be a star orator, but he must be able to at least tell the people what ails them and the country, and present a promising remedy. Because of the stagnation in industry and the relatively low price of farm products, the tax problem will be to the fore, but there are other questions which will confront every candidate for public office. There will be an occasional one who will be able to fool the people, but for the most part the candidate will have to intelligently "show me." The prohibition question is sure to bulk large in the campaign because of the widespread violation of the federal and state laws. Captain Smith, the state commissioner for the enforcement of the anti-liquor laws, appears to be making a winning fight. At least there is less general violation than there was when he took office. It will need, however, four or five years of strenuous enforcement to bring a general observance of the law. Because it is necessary to meet the people and talk the questions over with them the campaign of 1922 will begin early. As stated last week in certain quarters much has already been done.

DANGEROUS CURVE AHEAD!

Dease, Bond du Lac, Green Lake, Manitowish, Eau Claire, St. Croix, Columbia, Iowa, Grant, La Fayette, Walworth, Rock and Dane. The situation is considered exceedingly grave at this time as there have been reported in all 52 outbreaks, all occurring during the latter part of September and the first week in October. The department of agriculture appeals to all swine breeders for co-operation in stamping out the disease.

Dr. A. S. Alexander, head of the division of horse breeding of the state department of agriculture in his quarterly report to the commissioner of agriculture states that horse breeders are taking a renewed interest throughout the state, and are adding new pure bred stallions to their stables. Of the 1,092 pure bred stallions now in use in the state there are 788 Percherons, 126 Belgians, 31 Clydesdales, 30 French Drafts, 18 Shires, 53 Standard bred broodmares, 4 Morgans, 4 German Coachers, 2 French Coachers, 3 Hackneys, 2 Shetland ponies, 1 Welsh pony, 1 Arabian and 18 Jacks.

Approximately one-half the anticipated potato crop deficit was wiped out by the unusually favorable September, according to Joseph A. Rechor, state-federal crop reporter. The United States crop on September 1 was estimated at 323 million bushels, compared to 428 million in 1920, and a 5-year average of 371 million. On October 1, the crop had improved to such extent that the production was estimated at 346 million bushels short of the average. The increase, however, occurred largely in the eastern states.

Production in the three principal surplus states of the Mississippi valley (Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota) was estimated at 78 million bushels, compared to 66 million on September 1, a 5-year average of 81 million bushels. Production this year will, therefore, be three million bushels short of the average in these three potato shipping states. Potato production in the Mississippi Valley states lying south of the three surplus states will have approximately 24 million bushels this year, compared to 55 million last year, and a 5-year average of 57 bushels. These states constitute the main market for the excess of Wisconsin, Michigan and Minnesota.

Production in Thousands

	1921	1920	5-year
Ohio	5,827	11,500	10,702
Iowa	4,692	9,350	8,940
Illinois	7,117	8,775	10,482
Indiana	3,404	7,680	9,000
Missouri	5,841	7,790	7,500
Kentucky	3,775	6,435	6,500
Tennessee	2,450	2,562	2,500
Total	34,106	55,069	56,824

The shortage of 21 million bushels above indicates a keen market for Wisconsin potatoes this winter.

RUSSIAN SCIENTIST JOINS THE STAFF OF CHICAGO UNIVERSITY

Astronomer Found in Constantinople Chopping Wood for a Living

CHICAGO, Ill.—After following through the past few years the various findings of a person's life in Russia, Dr. Otto Struve, 24, has been brought here to join the astronomical staff of the University of Chicago. He will be stationed at Yerkes' observatory, Williams Bay, Wis. It was announced Thursday night.

Dr. Struve comes from a long line of scientists, his great grandfather, Wilhelm Struve, having founded the observatory of Pulkova more than 100 years ago for the czar of Russia. The young scientist was found in Constantinople by Dr. Edwin B. Frost, director of the Yerkes observatory.

At that time Dr. Struve was chopping wood for the sultan's palace to provide himself with food. Prior to that time he had served with General Wrangel's army in Russia, having fled when it was defeated.

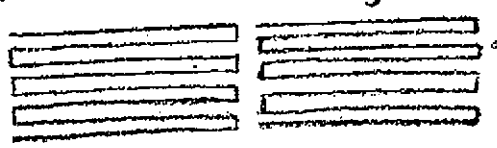

Dr. Frost, who found Dr. Struve, said that there were many famous scientists in Russia or Constantinople working as laborers to earn their food.

"Without the treacherous help of cathartics"

A simple food which gradually replaces laxatives

HE who can control chronic constipation without the treacherous help of cathartics makes a 'booster' of his patient."

This quotation from a doctor's essay on constipation carries a message of great significance to thousands of men and women.

It is now recognized that cathartics never remove the causes of constipation. Indeed, one physician states that the indiscriminate use of cathartics is probably one of the most frequent causes of constipation.

For many years there has been pressing need for some simple food that would help restore normal conditions. And now scientists have discovered it in the familiar little cake of Fleischmann's Yeast.

First came the startling discovery that Fleischmann's Yeast in itself is a wonderful food, rich in the mysterious water-soluble vitamin. Then it was found that Fleischmann's Yeast builds up the body tissues, keeps the body resistant to disease.

In addition, because of its freshness (you get it fresh daily) Fleischmann's Yeast helps the intestines in their elimination of waste matter. Fleischmann's Yeast was tested for this purpose in leading medical institutions. Chronic cases of constipation, some even of years' duration, responded.

Fleischmann's Yeast is by its very nature better suited to the stomach and intestines than the ordinary laxatives, and being a food it cannot form a habit.

Eat 2 to 3 cakes of Fleischmann's Yeast a day. Have it on the table at home and on your desk at the office. Eat it plain, spread on bread, or dissolved in milk or fruit juices. You will like its fresh, distinctive flavor and the clean wholesome taste it leaves in your mouth. It is assimilated just like any other food. Only one precaution: if troubled with gas, dissolve yeast first in boiling water. This does not affect the efficacy of the yeast. Place a standing order with your grocer for Fleischmann's Yeast and get it fresh daily.

Send 4 cents in stamps for the interesting booklet, "The New Importance of Yeast in Diet." Address THE FLEISCHMANN COMPANY, 701 Washington St., New York, N. Y.

The need for scientifically tested yeast

Fresh yeast has been proved by recent scientific tests to be a valuable food for correcting run-down condition, constipation, indigestion and certain skin disorders. These original tests were all made with Fleischmann's Yeast. Beware of untested yeast-vitamin preparations that contain drugs or other mixtures. Fleischmann's Yeast (fresh) is a pure food, rich in vitamin, in which it measures up to the high standards set by laboratories and hospitals. The familiar tin-foil package with the yellow label is the only form in which Fleischmann's Yeast for Health is sold.

WHITEHALL FARM IS AWARDED LAMBERSON BY SUPREME COURT

Brothers Ordered to Restore Property to Younger Brother

In a decision just handed down by the Wisconsin state supreme court, Lloyd Lamberson wins possession of a farm near Whitehall which was given to him by his father, John C. Lamberson, under the terms of a land contract in 1901. Lloyd Lamberson's right to the farm has been contested by an older brother, Alfred Lamberson, son.

In 1901 Mr. Lamberson, the father, made three land contracts, giving each of his sons, Alfred, George and Lloyd, a farm, all located near Whitehall. Alfred and George Lamberson moved on to their farms at that time. Lloyd Lamberson did not, going to South Bend, Ind., to work for a large vehicle and automobile manufacturing concern. In 1917 Mr. Lamberson, the father, died. His will was presented in Winona for probate. In the will Alfred, the eldest son, as executor, claimed the farm given to Lloyd by the land contract of 1901. Later the land contract was found in a safety deposit box in Winona. The contract had disappeared when Lloyd sought to take over the land.

Lloyd Lamberson sued his brothers in circuit court in La Crosse, before Judge Clemenson, in January, 1920. Judge Clemenson died before the case was completed. It was then taken before Judge Bancroft of Richland Center, who rendered a verdict for Lloyd Lamberson. The case was appealed to the supreme court where it was argued by Quincy Hale for Lloyd Lamberson and by Ole J. Egerm and Tawney, Smith & Tawney for the other brothers. The supreme court upheld Judge Bancroft's decision ordering the farm near Whitehall, Alfred and George Lamberson stored to Lloyd Lamberson. The brothers moved on to their farms at that time. Lloyd Lamberson did not, going to South Bend, Ind., to work for a large vehicle and automobile manufacturing concern. In 1917 Mr. Lamberson, the father, died. His will was presented in Winona for probate. In the will Alfred, the eldest son, as executor, claimed the farm given to Lloyd by the land contract of 1901. Later the land contract was found in a safety deposit box in Winona. The contract had disappeared when Lloyd sought to take over the land.

The rooms were decked in fall bloom, chrysanthemums in all their brilliant beauty being lavishly displayed in tall vases and large jardinières. In the reception hall yellow was the coloring, and lavender featured the dining room.

Mrs. Samuel Y. Hyde, Jr., and Miss Eleanor Funk were in general charge of the rooms. In the dining room Mrs. Albert P. Funk presided at the coffee urn and Mrs. Frank N. Funk served the salad. These ladies were assisted by Mrs. Leonard R. Funk, Mrs. Horace K. Holby and Miss Helen Vesey. A large bowl of pink roses of the Columbia variety enhanced the table with pink tapers in crystal sticks at four angles. A bowl of the same roses was placed on the sideboard. For cream was served in the library by Mrs. Joseph B. Funk, assisted by the Misses Eleanor Schaeffer and Ellen Salzer. Yellow chrysanthemums combined with lilies-of-the-valley formed the attractive dressing of the room.

OUTBREAK OF HOG CHOLERA REPORTED IN MANY COUNTIES

Breeders Called on to Take Steps to Prevent Spread of Disease

MADISON, Wis.—A serious outbreak of hog cholera in 52 Wisconsin points is officially reported by the state department of agriculture through Dr. J. T. Purcell. The department is appealing to all swine breeders for co-operation in an effort to prevent a disastrous outbreak, such as it says exists in Illinois.

Heavy losses from the disease are reported in Kenosha, Racine, Milwaukee, Waukesha, Washington, Dodge, Fond du Lac, Green Lake, Manitowish, Waubesa, Shawano, Oconto, Columbia, Iowa, Grant, Lafayette, Walworth, Rock and Dane counties. The larger portion have occurred during September and early October.

The department of agriculture says that excellent results obtained in controlling cholera through proper use of serum and virus strains have caused stock men in many communities to consider the disease practically eliminated. There is grave danger that this attitude may result in a general outbreak, causing great loss to the livestock industry, the report declares.

When cholera appears it must be presumed that it has been carried to the hogs from some other infected point, according to the agricultural department, since there is said to be no other way in which the disease can be carried. Precautionary measures are therefore advised to guard against spread of the disease from outside areas.

Vaccination and confinement of infected animals to distant parts of the farm are recommended, as well as dipping and spraying. An early diagnosis is the only hope of preventing a heavy loss, the department says, advising that an experienced veterinarian or official of the department be called as soon as symptoms of cholera appear.

INJURIES MAY COST MADISON HIGH GAME WITH EAU CLAIRE

Back Line is Riddled; Captain Smith is Shifted from End Position

MADISON, Wis.—Injuries received in the game against Stoughton last Saturday may keep two or three Madison high grid warriors out of the Eau Claire game Saturday. It was learned Thursday.

John Deegan, husky guard, was badly battered in the Hub city fracas and was out in a suit Wednesday night for the first time since the game. Deegan did not allow him to do much except flounder up a bit.

John Gunderson, halfback, is suffering from an injury of one of his knees and it is likely that Endres will have to keep him out of the Eau Claire game. Efforts to get a line on Eau Claire's strength have been futile. Endres, however, is drilling his men hard, in recollection of the Upphill fight his team had at Eau Claire last fall.

Followers of the team are looking for an important change in Madison's lineup Saturday. Captain "Happy" Smith, who has been playing end, was shifted to a back position Wednesday night, and Eddie Smith, his brother, given his place. It is probable that Endres will use Captain Smith in the backfield because of injuries to Gunderson and McEadden.

FYETT BILLIARD ROOM WINS FROM SAFFORD, 75 TO 58

In the La Crosse pocket-billiard league last evening J. Fyett playing for Fyett's room, defeated J. Safford, playing for Safford's billiard room, by a score of 75 to 58. The game was played at Fyett's room. This evening the Bodega club plays at Sheldon and both play at Monsoor.

JACK SCHAEFER RUNS 480 AT CUE FOR WORLD MARK

CHICAGO, Ill.—Continuing an unfinished run of 350 made in the second inning of the afternoon block of his 18-2 match with Dave McAndrews, Young Jack Schaefer Wednesday ran 121 in the first inning of the evening match, bringing his total to 480 setting a new world's record. Schaefer held the old record of 458 made last May in a match with Edmund Horreman, the Belgian cueist, at San Francisco.

Schaefer played brilliantly in the afternoon game, scoring 41 in the first inning and running out in the second with the unfinished 350. McAndrews scored 72 points in his single afternoon inning.

BADGERS END HARD WEEK OF SCRIMMAGE FOR TILT WITH ILLINOIS SATURDAY

MADISON, Wis.—The university football squad has gone safely through a series of hard scrimmages in preparation for the game Saturday with Illinois, completing practice against the All-Americans Wednesday afternoon.

In spite of a field transformed by the rain into slippery, uncertain footing, there are no injuries in the team. The Badgers will be prepared to put on their best battle when the whistle blows Saturday afternoon on the field at Urbana.

In the evening the team will board a Pullman car for the first leg of the journey and will make the second trip day morning, from Chicago to Urbana.

SCHOONER ELSIE HAULED TO SLIP FOR INSPECTION

HALIFAX, N. S.—The Gloucester schooner Elsie, which will defend the International Fishermen's trophy in races beginning Saturday at Dartmouth on the marine slip at Dartmouth Thursday for an inspection of its hull. The schooner will be refloated tomorrow morning, when its place on the slip will be taken by the Canadian challenger Duquesne.

Captain Marty Welch, skipper of Elsie, announced that he had no intention of hauling out his schooner, but the damage sustained by the port anchor plate on the trip up from Gloucester may have caused him to change his mind.

Some weeks ago it was stated by members of the Halifax race committee that both challenger and defender would be examined as to their under-way measurements before the opening contest, depth of keel being limited under the provisions of the deed of gift of the trophy.

Captain Welch, the American skipper, decided to take his craft into the basin for a sailing drill.

Thirty-five players will be taken Friday afternoon they will be given an opportunity to lumber up on the one-way field, and become somewhat acclimated.

In most quarters Wisconsin is adjudged a slight favorite in the contest because of the defeat of the Illinois by Iowa last Saturday. Much of the advantage will be with Zuppke's followers, however.

Not only will they be playing in their own back yard and before a crowd that will be mainly for them, factors which are conceded to count a great deal, but on a dry field this will not be so important, but recently old Jupp Puvion has been uncommonly active, and the Badgers are about even that the chances are about even that the Badgers will be forced to play on slippery sod.

Red and Black In Readiness For Winonans

Coach Keegan and his high school football warriors are in readiness and all set for the invasion of the Collier high school eleven from Winona at Normal field Saturday afternoon.

The fact is generally accepted that the Red and Black will experience little difficulty in defeating the Winonans but at the same time the local eleven is printed to meet any breaks which might befall them in the scrimmage tomorrow. The team is out to gain every possible touchdown and it will be the anticipation of the team to witness a dash which has seemingly been lacking in the machine this season.

NEW YORK.—Low Tandler, who aspires to champion Benny Leonard's lightweight title, will meet Rocky Kansas of Buffalo in a fifteen round hour Friday night.

PRINCETON.—Princeton's football team expects another severe test Saturday when the Tigers meet the University of Chicago. Last Saturday they were beaten 13 to 0 by the navy.

ELKS' BOWLING LEAGUE

Three teams in the Elks' bowling league, the Maplenites, Antlers and Dark Horses, made clean sweeps of their game series with the Spares, Pioneers and Redmakers in the events of the league Thursday evening. The Spares won two out of three from the Wuzzers, Miller, of the latter, was high man of the evening turning in scores of 213, 208 and 179.

Felt hat making was still in its primitive stage in 1556. Here's a hat factory of that period. Father whips the felt cone to shrink it to proper proportions, big brother blocks the hat, while little brother trims the brim.

Today, the Gordon hat is the finest product of modern methods.

Can France Disarm?

"France must remain armed as long as her security has not been assured," announces Premier Briand, who is expected to head the French delegation to the arms parity. "No country more than ours desires to limit military burdens," he declares; but he goes on to make it no less emphatically clear that any reduction of the size of the French army must depend upon the elimination of the German menace—in other words, an Allied understanding for the protection of France. Says the Paris Temps, expressing a point of view echoed in dozen of its contemporaries: "The security of France means the peace of Europe. It is a basic condition of economic and political solidarity in the world."

President Harding's call to the Washington Conference says that the question of naval armament will "naturally have first place," altho "it has been thought best not to exclude questions pertaining to other armament." How naval disarmament can end war on land seems to puzzle the French, who recall that Belgium and France were not invaded by a navy in 1914, and who at this moment see the jealous nations of Europe facing each other within easy marching distance. "France has not the slightest intention of abandoning what she considers her just right to security," says Paul Scott Mowrer in October Current Opinion. Unless France can be assured of the moral support of the Allies, "the French delegates will not discuss the reduction of land armament," declares the New York Tribune.

The uncompromising attitude of France in this instance finds considerable support among American editors. But while we find the general attitude of the American press toward France's position to be one of sympathy, in many instances this sympathy is mingled with misgiving. If Premier Briand adheres to his stand, avers the New York World, "then, so far at least as land armaments are concerned, the Washington Conference fails from the start." Equally pessimistic, but less sympathetic, is Mr. Hearst's New York American, which proclaims that "it may confidently be taken for granted that neither Japan, England nor France has the remotest intention of abandoning imperialism or militarism at the Washington Conference," and insists that "the United States should not make any sort of alliance with any other Power or Powers." There is "not a chance" of the United States entering into any such alliance, declares the Des Moines Register.

In the leading article in this week's LITERARY DIGEST, October 22nd, all shades of opinion, as voiced by the French and American press, are given.

FOUR WOLVES, FOX KILLED IN HUNT AT TREMPPEALEAU

Hunters Invade Perrott Park to Exterminate Pack of Varmints Prevaling there

TREMPPEALEAU, Wis.—Trempealeau was all excitement when it awoke Wednesday morning to find the streets lined with hunters armed with high powered rifles. Wednesday was the day designated for the big wolf hunt in Perrott park. It has been known for some time that there was a number of wolves in this park but hunting or even carrying a gun on this land is prohibited by the state laws. However, the farmers owning land adjacent to the park complained of the depredations committed by the wolves and Deputy Game Warden Arthur Holmes took the matter up with the state conservation commission at Madison and permission was granted to organize a party of hunters to try to exterminate the pack. Accordingly Wednesday morning hunters from all over the county to the number of 50 gathered at Trempealeau and proceeded to the attack. As a result they returned about 4 o'clock in the afternoon with four wolves and one fox. The bounty will be divided among the entire party.
